Research workshop

Following the launch, you are invited to attend a workshop where we will examine the recommendations of the report and the implications for Papua New Guinea and Australia.

The aim of the workshop is to engage LNG project stakeholders, NGOs, academics and interested parties in an active discussion into the research investigation and findings and to discuss the implications and recommendations for PNG and Australia for the future.

A light morning tea will be served at Parliament House from 11am. Transport is arranged to take guests to the Australian National University where a lunch will be served before the workshop commences at 1pm.

Workshop venue: Hedley Bull Building, Australian National University

Time: 12 noon lunch, followed by workshop at 1pm

RSVP: by 22nd May 2012 to rrobinson@childfund.org.au stating your attendance at the launch and/or workshop.
