

Australian
National University

Seminar

The Future of Asian and Pacific Studies (viewed from Canberra)

Date & Time

30 October 2014

3:30 to 5:00pm

Location

Theatre 2

Hedley Bull Centre

(Building 130)

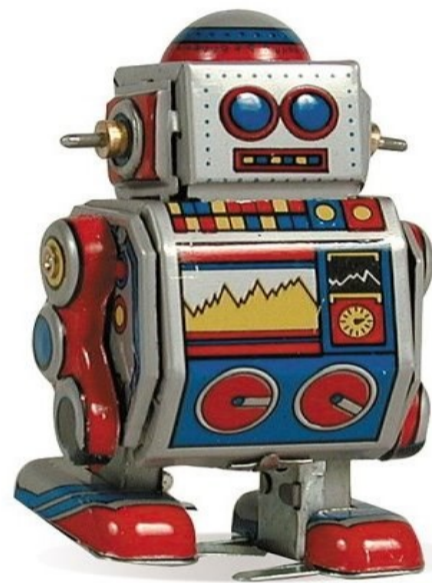

Australian National University

Further Information

Dr Chris Ballard

E chris.ballard@anu.edu.au

T 02 6125 0305

The School has invited three of our leading Emeritus and Adjunct colleagues, Anthony Reid, Bronwen Douglas and Gavan McCormack, to lead a discussion on the topic of the future of Asian Studies and Pacific Studies, drawing on their long-term experience. The Director, Ken George, will also address Emeritus, Adjunct and Visitor colleagues on current and future conditions for research at the School.

All members of the School and the College of Asia and the Pacific – and School Emeriti, Adjuncts and Visitors in particular – are welcome to attend, contribute to discussion, and join us for drinks in the Hedley Bull foyer immediately after the roundtable

Discussants:

Emeritus Professor Anthony Reid

Adjunct Senior Fellow Dr Bronwen Douglas

Emeritus Professor Gavan McCormack

Presented by

School of Culture, History and Language
College of Asia & the Pacific

This event will be followed by drinks in the Hedley Bull foyer, hosted by the School of Culture, History and Languages Director Professor Ken George.