Terra Australis is celebrating its 50th issue! This is a timely celebration as 2019 is the year that marks 50 years of archaeology at ANU. Please join ANU Press, the editorial board of Terra Australis and the School of Culture, History & Language at the College of Asia & the Pacific to mark this special occasion. We are also marking the release of some recent Terra Australis books, including:

#48 *The Archaeology of Sulawesi: Current Research on the Pleistocene to the Historic Period

Edited by: Sue O'Connor, David Bulbeck,
Juliet Meyer

#49 *Drawing in the Land: Rock Art in the Upper Nepean, Sydney Basin, New South Wales

Authored by: Julie Dibden

#50 *The Spice Islands in Prehistory:
Archaeology in the Northern Moluccas, Indonesia

Edited by: Peter Bellwood

Plus the newly released: #51 *Archaeologies of Island Melanesia: Current approaches to landscapes, exchange and practice

Edited by: Mathieu Leclerc, James Flexner

The Terra Australis series reports the results of archaeological and related research within the south and east of Asia, though mainly Australia, New Guinea and Island Melanesia. All issues published since 2006 are available for free download via the ANU Press website. Learn more about the series here:
