

ASAA CONFERENCE 2022

‘Social Justice in Pandemic Times’

Panel and paper proposals are now open for the 24th Biennial Asian Studies Association of Australia Conference (ASAA) 2022 at Monash University, Melbourne, Australia

CO-ORGANISED BY THE MONASH HERB FEITH INDONESIAN ENGAGEMENT CENTRE AND SCHOOL OF LANGUAGES, LITERATURES, CULTURES AND LINGUISTICS

The 24th biennial ASAA conference will be a hybrid event with in-person sessions hosted at Monash University, Clayton Campus along with Webinar and Live-Streams, all accessible through an online conference portal.

The ASAA Conference, ‘Social Justice in Pandemic Times’ will bring together academics, activists, artists, students, practitioners and community members from across disciplines with shared interest in Asia, including Asian communities in Australia and globally.

The conference is open to all who wish to share their scholarship and hear about Asia. It seeks to create conversation between people working across Asia.

We welcome inter-country and interdisciplinary research and, befitting the theme, we aspire to ensure speakers represent all walks of life and engage a diverse range of topics.

‘SOCIAL JUSTICE IN PANDEMIC TIMES’

The theme of Social Justice in Pandemic Times is particularly apt as the region grapples with complex and ongoing issues of COVID-19. Focusing the conference around social justice provides space for in-depth engagement with social inequalities, injustices and hardship, but it also provides a platform to discuss innovative improvements in social justice enabled through global health crises.

CALL FOR PAPERS

The 2022 ASAA conference calls for SEVEN Individual Paper Proposals:

- Individual Paper Proposals
- Organised Panel Proposals
- Roundtable Proposals
- Artistic Session Proposals
- Workshop Proposals
- Book Launch Proposals
- Postgraduate Poster Presentations

You can present on a maximum of TWO presentations only. You can select a preference for presenting in-person, virtually or in hybrid mode.

We encourage a diverse range of presenters.

This conference aims to amplify the voices of people from various backgrounds, regions, cultures, religions and identities. We thus encourage panel, roundtable and workshop organisers to include, where possible, a range of speakers, including people at different levels of their career trajectory.

CONFERENCE INFORMATION

When: 5-8 July, 2022

Where: Monash University, Clayton Campus, Australia & via online conference portal

Key Dates:

- Call for Papers open 27 July 2021
- Submissions close 1 November 2021
- Acceptance of Papers 24 January 2022
- Registration opens 24 January 2022

For registration pricing or to submit your proposal please visit the conference website:

<https://monasharts.cventevents.com/ASAA202>