

Gaining insight into Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples' knowledges and perspectives with the ANU Library

You're invited!

Please join us for an event hosted by the ANU Scholarly Information Services Division to learn more about how ANU Library collections can support academics to embed Indigenous knowledges and perspectives into their teaching and research.

This presentation will give teaching academics the tools they need to ensure they fulfil the ANU Graduate Attribute to ensure “Insight into Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples’ Knowledges and Indigenous Peoples’ Perspectives” is strongly incorporated into their courses and teaching approach.

Thursday 18 April, 2pm
McDonald Room, Menzies Library

No registration required

